Friends help raise sides of new barn at Remingtons

A man works up a pretty good appetite raising a barn, and when he's done a good meal is well appreciated.

And so Alan and Donna Remington, of Grover Hill Road, put out quite a meal for a dozen or so friends and relatives who helped them raise the walls of their barn a week-and-a-half ago.

"They (the women) put on a wicked feed," recalled Mr. Remington. "I bet they made five gallons of beef stew."

That was the second go-round. The barn went up in two stages: the first raising put up the 10' by 40' lower walls, while the second raising hoisted the 12' by 40' lower part of the gambrel roof. The second raising was probably the heavier, said Mr. Remington, because of the greater height of the wall/roof being raised. He estimated the weight at between 1,500 and 2,000 pounds.

Following the first raising, last month, the menu consisted of barbecued hamburgers and hotdogs, and more homemade desserts than anyone could eat.

The Remingtons had never taken part in a barn-raising—in fact, had

New phone system to be operational by end of month

The squeaks, gurgles and squawks, so common on area phones, should become a thing of the past when Continental Telephone Company's new cables and switching equipment is placed in operation later this month. "We should eliminate all (those noises)," ConTel's Superintendent of Telephone Services for Western Maine, William Benner, told The Citizen.

"The quality of service should be greatly improved," said Benner. "I think the people will be delighted."

When the switchover to the new equipment occurs later this month, continued on Page Four

"STORY THEATRE" AT GOULD SATURDAY, OCT. 20

On Saturday, Oct. 20, students in Gould Academy's Drama Group will present "Story Theatre," a play based on the fables of the Grimm Brothers and Aesop in the school's William Bingham Hall Auditorium at 7 p.m. and the public is cordially invited to attend. At a later date the cast and crew will travel to Lake Placid, N. Y., for a performance at the North Country School.

This entertaining production will re-introduce adults to such characters as Henny Penny, the Golden Goose, the Fisherman and His Wife, the Bremen Town Musicians and other favorites from their childhood. For younger people the stories will be even more familiar. The New York Post said that this play was "An evening of imaginative and unpretentious delight... fun is predominant."

The cast of 16 students is under the coaching of veteran director Mrs. Carol Fiske, a member of the Gould faculty. Carol has staged such works as "West Side Story," "The Gondoliers," "Our Town," "Godspell" and many others over the past years and is well known for her imaginative staging and set design.

Some of the cast who come from the state of Maine are Lauren Foster, Friendship; Patti Giles, Lincolnville; Bud Judson, Bethel; Ian Kahn, Warren; and Jill Simmons, Lewiston.

HEALTH CENTER SIGNS SALES/PURCHASE AGREEMENT FOR A&P PROPERTY

The former A&P store on Railroad Street may soon be sold. The Bethel Area Health Center has signed a purchase and sale agreement for the property, which includes the vacant building and the Bulldog Diner, as well as the large parking lot.

The Board of Trustees of the Bethel Area Health Center was informed last night about the pending purchase. "We are the proud owners of a new building," Chairman Lynda Chandler told her board. But, she cautioned, the final purchase is "subject to funding by FHA."

No price was mentioned, but sources have told The Citizen that it is around $35,000, plus payment of back taxes. It has an appraised value of over $55,000, the sources said.

The building was erected about 15 years ago and went through various lives as an A&P and a carpet store, as well as a portion of the premises being a liquor store, before becoming vacant.

Mrs. Chandler told her board that the purchase and sales agreement was negotiated by local businessman John Head, acting for the health center, with a New Hampshire bank—the current owner of the property.

Prior to the discussion of the A&P purchase, Selectman Pat Dooen told the trustees the town needed help with housing its two ambulances and related equipment.

Selectmen searching for replacements — grader and quarters for ambulances

Highway Department foreman Bob Davis will be going to Maryland shortly to look at a road grader with 1,650 hours on it. The trip is to be paid for by the dealer and was authorized by the Bethel Board of Selectmen at their Monday night meeting.

If Mr. Davis likes the looks of the machine, the selectmen might ask the town—at a special town meeting—to come up with some additional money to help pay for it and a snow plowing wing. Cost of the used grader is $32,000, Town Manager Bill Judson told the board, and a new wing would cost between $10,000 and $12,000.

While the grader itself is within the $35,000 limit already set aside for a replacement machine, the wing, necessary for this winter's plowing, would boost the price above what town meeting has already authorized. The board hinted that Mr. Judson should make the window shopping trip with Mr. Davis, at town expense.

Board Chairman Arlan Jodney

was lukewarm to any shopping trip for used equipment to replace the cranky 1959-vintage grader the town is currently using. "I'm for lease/purchase," Mr. Jodney told the board. "I'd like to see us lease a (new) machine for six months, to make darn sure it's the machine we want."

But the majority of the board wanted to continue the search for a used machine. "I'd be for a used one, if you can find a good one," said Selectman Danny Davis. "But," he pointed out, "in 10 years we haven't found a good one."

Selectman Peter Haines also wanted to keep searching. "I don't have anything against used equipment," he said.

Board member Pat Dooen noted that a lease/purchase contract would have to be approved by a town meeting, and the matter might best be put off until the annual town meeting. She said the town could get through the winter

Mass. family treated to meal at Martha's by anonymous Good Samaritan

A Somerville, Mass., family of four was pleasantly surprised a couple of weeks ago while having dinner at Martha's Restaurant in Bethel. After having their fill of scallops—and hamburgers for the kids—their waitress, Barbara Bryant, told them they ought to have desserts of their choice since it was already paid for.

Mrs. Bryant said a middle-aged couple instructed her to put the Somerville family's bill on their own check, including dessert. The bill for the Friday night meal came to about $37, Mrs. Bryant recalled, and the four recipients were certainly surprised. "The woman couldn't believe it," she said.

She told the good samaritans that she would point them out to the family of four, but the man wouldn't hear of it, she said. "That's not the way I do things," she quoted him as saying. She didn't know the couple, nor did she get a chance to check the license plate on their car as they left.

As the couple was leaving, the man said, "Now I feel good about the day," Mrs. Bryant recalled.

The father of the Massachusetts family felt pretty good about his day, too. "What a wonderful, warm and tender feeling was left in my heart by two people who went out of their way for my family," he said in a letter to The Citizen. (See page 3 for the complete letter.)

The restaurant staff also was heartened by the action of the good samaritans. "It was very nice," said Mrs. Bryant. "We all felt good about it."

As unusual as the incident was, it's not the first time such a thing has happened at the restaurant. A similar incident occurred about 10 years ago, Mrs. Bryant said, when an elderly couple purchased dinner for a young family.

On Saturday, Blaine and Margaret Mills, entertained the Woodsum brothers, Gilbert of Sausage, Mass., and Norton of Mechanic Falls, and Gilbert's grandson, Channing Woodsum and friends of Oakland, Calif. When they were growing up in Mechanic Falls, they enjoyed visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Albion Woodsum, and their uncle, George Woodsum, in Locke Mills. Albion Woodsum owned and operated a general store in Locke Mills from about 1888 to 1891, and George (Tommy) Woodsum was a barber here. The brothers and guests were taken to visit the places they remembered around the village and Round Pond. Gilbert and Norton were the sons of Albert (Bert) Woodsum.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gaudet of Yarmouth, visited Mrs. Bertha Flanders, Sunday and took her to dinner at a Bethel Restaurant.

The fire department cleaned chimneys Saturday and Sunday of last week and will be cleaning the rest shortly.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Cross had a woodsplitting party at their home Saturday. About six members of their family came to split and were dinner guests. Kenneth Swan brought his splitter and son Alan helped. Also helping were Buster Cross, Rodney Cross, Dick Cross, Barbara Dunham with Edgar, and Eben Dunham helping in the afternoon. Approximately six cords were split and stored away in the garage.

The Neighbors in Need Offering at the Union Church brought in $66 which will be sent to the United Church of Christ office in Yarmouth for distribution.

Eva Keniston will be having a birthday, Oct. 21 at Ledgewick. Cards, would be appreciated.

Martha Farrington was a guest speaker at the Union Church Sunday while Rev. Michael Caldwell attended the United Church of Christ Conference in Portland.

Georgia Packard will be celebrating a birthday Oct. 25.

Louis Martin from Chapel Valley, West Paris, visited Mr. and Mrs. Lee Mills on Thursday. Vi Churchill and Leland Farr of Bethel were callers also that day.

The Ladies Circle realized approximately $200 from the Senior Citizens dinner last week.

Helen Bacon and friend, Mark Rader, were visitors at Mrs. Lilian Lapham's one day last week.

The Greenwood Fire Department held a training session Tuesday evening. They were doing time studies on getting to a fire, getting water, etc. They also burned a brush pile at Hugh Swan's as part of the study.

Bertha Flanders was able to attend Church for the first time since her hip operation. Everyone was glad to see her back.

FROM THE WOODSTOCK HISTORICAL SOCIETY

"There is a strange holiness around our common days on common ground."

Robert P. Tristram Coffin
So often we feel we must do something significant to have it be special. However, Coffin here says that is not so. And history bears him out. Spectacular events do not make the world go round. We simply have to go about our lives in a common way. We can enjoy nature about us. We can interact with our friends. We can do our daily chores as best we can. We can sense our common humanity. We can meet each new day quietly, without expecting extraordinary events to come our way. This is what lends our lives dignity—not some unusual demonstration of skill or prowess. (The task is to accept our daily round with enthusiasm. Let us do so and try to contribute in whatever simple way we can.)

The following compose the Society committees for the new year: Publicity, Larry Billings; Finance, Kay Billings, Sandra Brooks, Ruth Tyler, Alice Hoyt, and Paul Billings; Building Committee, Earle Noyes, Ralph Hoyt, Harold Tyler, Ray Burnham, and the trustees; Research, Ruby Emery, Eva B. Twitchell, and Steve Chase; Entertainment, Annie Crockett, Vera Swan, Louisa Noyes, and Mansfield Packard; Refreshments, Mary Billings and Elena Noyes; Mystery Package, Ruth Cox. Best wishes to all involved for a successful year.

At the last Society meeting Ruby Emery and Steve Chase presented a program on Woodstock people and places. Annie Crockett's program on the Garden Club will be offered next meeting. The new custom of mystery package was initiated successfully. Elena Noyes won a Halloween cake supplied by Hazel Brooks. The Society is off to a good start for the new year, so plan to come and participate. You are always welcome.

What a beautiful week of Indian summer. Ideal weather for the World Series. I picked the American League to win but did not put up any money for I have always had to pay off, so this would be the year not winning a penny. Oh well! there will be other years, I hope.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Abbott went to Boston on Sunday where Faye will have surgery. Joe Vatcher will feed Brute the dog in their absence.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vatcher took Mrs. Fannie Vatcher back to the nursing home in Danvers, Mass., on Wednesday. She enjoyed her visit here. We had our Thanksgiving dinner except for cranberry sauce. We even sneaked her a small piece of pie. One has to break over the diabetic diet once in a while and Eveline used a bit of salt, so it was a change. When they got home from Massachusetts they went to Warren Emery's to see the moose the Emerys had just brought home. Two in one family is good.

Callers at Joe Vatcher's: Mr. and Mrs. "Root" Lawrence, Arnold Coffin, Roland Lord, Clyde Knights, Rhoda Vatcher, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Abbott, Mrs. Harriet Phillips.

Mr. and Mrs. George Oja and family, California, have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Fred Oja and family, Saturday evening they attended the Parisian's dance at West Summer and Fred danced every dance, and I'll bet he enjoyed every bit of it. The entertainment from 6:30-8 p.m. was enjoyed by all attending.

Landscape hues are gradually losing their brilliancy, and the mountain ranges are frosted with burnt oranges, bronzes and browns, interspersed occasionally with vivid yellow patches of the leaves of the white birches. Along the highways, clumps of shabby, weary milkweed, are erupting their pods, and their delicate silken parachutes are awaiting the promise of strong gales to propagate their species. Stacks of orange pumpkins are mounded high upon the farmer's carts, and the dull greyish tans of the corn stalks, hover tremulously, awaiting the grim reaper, forgotten as of now, and forlorn, amid the furrowed gardens. Roadside stands proclaim their wares of the apple harvest and the tart freshly pressed cider lures many to its markets. It seems as if Mother Nature herself is pausing to rest and view the results of her labors, before she at last deluges us with the frosty fingers of Old Jack Frost, who too soon will be painting lacy pictures upon our window panes.

Our community was deeply saddened at the loss of one of our oldest original citizens, Clifford Cole, who passed away last Friday morning. Deepest sympathies are compassionately extended to his family, in this time of their bereavement.

Mrs. Leo Legendre and Mrs. Leo Belanger accompanied Mrs. Anita Ferrand, to the Maine Medical Center, one day last week, where Mrs. Ferrand underwent an interocular implant. Anita is progressing nicely at this writing.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR...

Dear Editor:

I am writing to ask your support of Alvin Barth as a candidate for Representative to the Legislature from this District.

A long time resident of Bethel and the new District 49, Al is a teacher at Gould Academy and the father of two sons. He has been active in the Republican Party but this is his first bid for a Legislative Seat. Last March, he was elected to a three year term on the Board of Directors for M.S.A. D. #44.

Among some of the most important issues facing the next session of the Legislature Al feels are the high cost of Workman's Compensation Insurance, the Wood Measurement Bill, which he feels is very hard on the lumbering industry.

He also is interested in seeing the entire length of Route 26 being designated as a Route Corridor, and feels that much work needs to be done on this route. He also feels that more Block Grant Money should be given to the Towns to help maintain the former State Aid Roads which the State turned back to municipalities two years ago.

Tourism is another issue which Al feels that is important. He says that promoting tourism will provide more jobs, which in turn will cut down on Welfare costs.

As to taxes, he will work to keep them as low as possible, without any unnecessary increases.

I feel sure that Alvin Barth merits your support and that if elected he will work hard for Legislative District 49. Your vote would be appreciated.

Sincerely,

Roger E. Hanscom
Selectman, Newry

To the Editor:

Maine Hospitality

Many times we hear the negative aspects of our fellow-man, the viciousness, the harm inflicted and the trouble they cause.

Seldom do you hear of their kindness. Today, our family was on the receiving end of the generosity of our fellow-man not once but twice.

In the first instance we had gotten off course on our way to Grafton Notch. In Bethel we approached a man in a blue pick-up for directions. In his special way he said, "If you'll back up and follow me, I'll show you the way." He wound around town through a ramp or two, pulled off the road, waved good-bye and headed back to Bethel. To say the least we were on the way to our planned destination.

On our way back, after a day of exploring Grafton Notch, needless to say we had a hungry crew. We stopped to eat at Martha's Restaurant. We were greeted by a friendly hostess, served a delicious meal by a wonderfully friendly and efficient waitress. But the topper came when the waitress came to ask us for dessert. "I hope everyone wants dessert because your meals have been paid for including dessert." Our dumbfounded expressions caused her to explain that a lady and gentleman who had been sitting at a nearby table had asked her to total their bill along with his and not say anything until they were gone. These people did not know a single solitary thing about us or we of them.

As an ex-military man, I have travelled four continents and never had such two separate acts of kindness extended to me.

What a wonderful warm and tender feeling was left in my heart by two people who went out of their way for my family today. Thanks to both of you, whoever you are. You are truly the finest examples of our fellow-man. The fellow-men who in their quiet way do not make headlines but are what we all should strive for. It could happen anywhere but it happened to us in God's Country — Bethel, Maine.

Sincerely yours,
Frank Bassett and family

As Past President of the Oxford County Municipal Officers Association, and former Selectman of Hartford for 14 years, I would like to commend Rep. To the Editor:

In regard to the recent letters of Donna Curtis, I might state I too live on the East Bethel Road. I live near the village end, and as for the road can find no complaint as far as here, in fact would commend the Town Highway Department on winter road conditions.

I realize that farther down the road leaves much to be desired and can understand dissatisfaction by those who use them. From the turn off to Locke Mills to the Rumford line should have, in my opinion, been in line of major repair years ago.

I, too, like Ms. Curtis realize tax dollars only go so far, but is all of it fairly spent?

My real reason for joining in her crusade, if I might call it that, is concerning the situation caused by recent road change where this road junctions with route 26.

My wife and I have spoken many times as to why there were not voices raised against this.

At the time of the change I believe the reason was to allow for better and safer truck entrance from this road to Rt. 26 south. Probably such was needed. However if this was the reason, the medical term of "operation successful, but the patient died" might well describe it.

As aware of safety factors as our Department of Transportation supposedly is, I don't understand how the plan got beyond the drawing board.

This change brought the junction of this road a good deal closer to a curve, thus increasing an existing problem.

When entering from the East Bethel Road to 26 there is no particular danger. But coming south on 26 to enter this road is a serious matter. The vision is not too far, and lessened by the fact of a bank and high weeds, on the inside of the curve on Rt. 26. Cars from behind pass on the right in the bicycle or trouble lane, which is not paved wide enough to make it safe. If you put your directional on, say as you come off Alder River Bridge, some will pass you on the right then cut in before you make your turn. Some seem to have adopted the method of taking the turn on the left side of the road at full throttle, hoping anyone exiting East Bethel Road will stop far enough back to avoid a collision. Perhaps this is the safest way.

There seems to have been no serious accidents here since the change, but I put this more to the Grace of God than to conditions or caution. Let's trust it will not take an occurrence similar to the one at the Canton construction site before some action is taken.

There must be others that feel the same way. I join Ms. Curtis in saying let's keep the ball rolling.

Sincerely,
Rodney H. Hanscom, Sr.

To the Editor:

Being members of the Headwaters Alliance of Sunday River we would like to inform the voters in this area of the conscientious efforts of Representative Jeff Mills in working to keep the Low Level Radioactive waste from being buried here or any other area. Having attended the Low Level Radioactive waste hearings, Jeff has been supportive of our group, and the interest of the health and safety of our future generations. With this in mind we would fully support Jeff in November and encourage each and every one of you to vote for him.

To the Editor:

With mixed feelings, I have reviewed the recently passed "education reform" package that the Governor and State Legislature recently passed into law.

I don't agree that money alone will improve the system as many believe. Paying someone $2,000 more in one year will not necessarily guarantee that they will become a better teacher. There must be a better system in which those teachers who are creative and who motivate their students can be rewarded. To attract the best we must be willing to reward them for their efforts. In addition, to pay for the whole 100 million dollar package the Legislature has earmarked future "surpluses" that may or may not accumulate for the next three years, 1985, 1986 and 1987. This means that there will be no money to fund new and emergency legislation during the next three years unless taxes are raised, and everyone is loath to do that. To me the increase in state funding (our taxes) means more state control and less on the local level.

Maine does need a strong educational system that will be a credit to our young people and an asset to the economic health of the state. However, the average Maine citizen and student must first be convinced of the worth of such a system. Teaching cannot be looked upon as a second-class vocation nor education as an unnecessary delay before joining the work-force.

Here in M.S.A.D. 44, I am happy to say we've beaten the State to the punch by already raising standards for high school graduation, instituted a remedial summer school to bring students up to these higher standards, and are concentrating on a testing program that will demand proficiency before promotion. It is particularly gratifying to see the concentration on programs for the primary grades K-6 where the basic groundwork is laid for all future learning.

S.A.D. 44 has a dedicated faculty, administration and staff who are working hard to achieve excellence in our program and I hope the citizens of Andover, Bethel, Greenwood, Newry and Woodstock continue to support them in their efforts. Education does not begin and end in the school building. It is a life-long process in which the family plays a vital role. Please get to know your child's teachers and work with them for the benefit of all concerned.

To the Editor:

As I have been calling on people in the area, it has come to my attention that many of the residents of Albany and Mason Townships are confused over the recent legislative reapportionment, passed prior to my election, and the resulting formation of House District 49. In voting for State Representative, Albany and Mason voters are in District 49, with Bethel, Lovell and Watford, and 10 additional towns or plantations. Both Albany and Mason remain in the Senate District represented by Sen. Twitchell, while Bethel has been added to the north Senate District represented by Senator Erwin. As always, Albany and Mason voters may select the neighboring town in which to register; registering in Lovell or Watford would allow participation in both House and Senate elections; while registering in Bethel will allow voting in House election, but not Senate.

It is possible to register on Election Day, Nov. 6, or during the weeks prior to that date.

Sincerely,
State Rep. Jeff Mills

To the Editor:

As one who commutes over the East Bethel Road daily, I can confirm the statements made recently by Ms. Donna Curtis. If anything, she has understated the deplorable condition of this road. As Ms. Curtis mentioned, the only action taken to maintain this road is new yellow lines, occasional cold patching, and the digging of a woefully inadequate drainage system that allows large sections of the roadway to wash out during any severe rain storm.

Driving over this road is extremely hard on vehicles. As you probably know a rather large segment of the S.A.D. 44 budget goes into repairs and maintenance for school buses. Over and above the fact that students riding these buses are not as safe as they would be on a well maintained road, pounding over the East Bethel Road three or four times daily cannot add to the life expectancy of a bus. Added maintenance for buses means a larger S.A.D. 44 budget, which means increased property taxes, which, we don't really need.

As a final note, after the severe washouts, of this past July, I contacted Representative Jeff Mills about this problem. Jeff was kind enough to contact the M.D.O. T. He was assured by the M.D.O. T. that there are no plans in the immediate future to improve the condition of the East Bethel Road.

Respectfully,

Sent in by Viva Whitman:

Rather a dreary and foggy morning this Sunday morning as I look out the window. So many leaves have fallen to the ground, that it isn't as pretty as it has been, and the reds and oranges are turning to gold and brown.

Russell is out trying to finish up the addition out front and it has sure changed since last Sunday. The sides are all up and windows in, and the door has been hung.

I'm afraid I have been a little negligent in writing in my book this week as I have been sick with a cold or bronchitis. It hangs on like nobody's business. Last Monday, Wynona, Mike and Courtney came up to visit and Mike was going to help Russell with the heavy plywood, putting it up on the outside of the addition. Wynona and Courtney drove me to Harrison to the doctor's, then went to Bridgton to do some shopping while I was there. Got back to find the menfolks had the outside up on the two sides, one facing the road and one toward Lawrence's house. The studs hadn't been put up for the other side as we wanted to get the freezer down before closing in that side. Peggy was available and so was Lawrence, so amongst us all, we emptied the freezer and got it moved to its new location and refilled again.

Got the third side studded up before leaving it for the night, and Russell has done so much work on it since.

Had to take time off on Tuesday to go to the doctor as I was sick and he put me on antibiotics.

Didn't do much, myself, on Wednesday, but Russell was busy as usual working on the addition. Then in the evening, he brought in some squashes and got them ready to cook and freeze. I cooked them the next day and put them into containers. Russell hadn't gotten the windows in on Friday, so I got up courage enough to go out and help him in the afternoon. We think they look pretty good, or will after they are washed.

Had been so tired on Thursday that I didn't do much but watch Courtney while her mother was up to work in Norway for a while. After lunch, I put her down for a nap and laid down myself. Was just about to drift off to sleep when Nonie got back and I helped her lay a pattern on some cloth so she can make a pretty dress.

Was to have gone to the doctor on Friday, but got a call that he was having trouble with water at his home, so changed the appointment to Saturday.

Of course, Saturday was to be Grange, so did a little cooking and called it enough. It sure was as only five showed up, so didn't have a meeting at all. Just had supper and waited until 7:30 and when no else showed up, went home.

Earlier in the day, Myrna and Bernard White had come to work on Peggy's camp and had come to dinner with us.

Next Grange meeting is to be on Oct. 27, and would like to see a lot come and come dressed for a Halloween costume contest. I have several things planned for the program and hope to have some fun.

Still got some freezing to be done, but need a little ambition to do it and what there is to be done, can wait a little and not get hurt.

I am looking forward to having my granddaughter with me the week of the 20th to the 27th and hope I can keep up with her.

Had a new member born into the family on Oct. 8. Mr. and Mrs. Preston Cobb had a new little boy arrive to keep their two girls company. His name is Preston James and he weighed in at six pounds and 15 ounces. I wish them the best with the new addition to the family and hope all goes well with them. Lorene was so happy when Peggy, Grace and I went in to see her and the baby on Monday night. Nonie had bought him just the right outfit to wear to a ball game. I think it is a little early for that, but they grew so fast, it won't be long before he will be in baseball or some other sport, I'm sure. His grandmother, Laura Hutchins was going down to stay with Lorene and help for a few days. She has a number of grandchildren, but this one is just as precious as the rest. Congratulations to all.

The varsity stickers also came out on top in Saturday's game against Kents Hill, 3-0, with two goals by Eunice Pikuzinski and one by Molly Lauck. The JVs, on the other hand, lost to Gorham, 2-0.

The women's soccer team battled to a 2-2 tie against Tilton last Saturday, with Jenna Hathaway getting both markers. The men's soccer team lost 3-2 to Kents Hill on Saturday. The JV and JV squads beat their Kents Hill opponents by scores of 3-2 and 3-0 respectively. The cross country squad lost by a single point in their dual meeting with Bridgton Academy.

Monday, the varsity soccer team lost to Bridgton, 4-1. The single Gould tally was by Peter Cline.

TELSTAR REBELS

Barring any major upsets among teams still playing, Telstar's soccer team should retain its number one ranking going into the playoffs. Assuming that will be the case, the Rebels will face the eighth-ranked tournament team in the quarter-final game, to be played at home, Oct. 27, at 1:30 p.m. The Rebels finished their regular season last Friday, defeating Mt. Abram, 2-0, and bring their season record to 11-1 overall, 9-1 in league play.

The Friday game was close until two quick scores by Telstar in the second half put the game out of reach for the visitors. "Basically it was an even game," commented Coach Bob Remington, "for the first half anyway. We didn't play as well as we usually do, because the kids were tired (having played Winthrop the day before). We talked at half-time and the kids pointed out some things we weren't doing, and they corrected them."

The first Rebel score came following a free kick in front of the Mt. Abram net. Bruce Barth nudged the ball in.

The second goal came on a Brandon Salway breakaway a few minutes later.

Although Mt. Abram outshot Telstar 19-17, Telstar goalie Ken Viger kept the visitors scoreless, with 11 saves. His counterpart, Brent Deming shortcircuited only five tries.

Mt. Abram, ranked seventh going into the game, had an almost perfect record, listing only one loss. That one was also at the hands of Telstar earlier in the season, 3-1.

Should the Rebels win in the quarter finals on Oct. 27, they will then face their semi-final foe, also at home, most probably, on Oct. 30. The Western Maine finals will be Nov. 3, and the Western Maine vs. Eastern Maine championship will be Nov. 10.

To stay in shape for the Oct. 27 match-up, the Rebels will scrimmage Rumford next Tuesday, there, at 8:30 p.m. Last year, the Rebels were ranked fifth going into the tournament and played away in the quarterfinals and semifinal, where they lost.

The Telstar field hockey varsity had only a slight chance of making it to the playoffs, needing a win over Jay yesterday, plus some luck in the rankings. The Jay game, played there, with results too late to get into the paper, was scheduled after referees failed to show up for a game with Jay on Tuesday at Telstar. The cancellation was a big let down for the girls, and for the fans.

"The girls were really pleased by all the fans that were there (Tuesday)," said Coach Sally Hannon, "and it's kind of too bad there was no game."

"So now we have to travel to Jay. If we could knock them off we could still make it (to the tournament). If we lose it, there's no way we'll make it in."

Last year the Rebel stickers were ranked number one going into the tournament and defeated Dirigo coln, Alden Kennett.

New members this week are Raymond and Dorothy Brown of Somersworth, N. H., and Jan Roberts of Austin, Tex.

Contributors this week to the Society's 1984 Endowment Campaign are Mrs. William P. O'Connor, West Paris; Sunday River Inn, Newry; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lowell, Newry; Dale Dyke, Rumford; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Doherty, Rumford; Mr. and Mrs. William P. Clough III, Bethel. To date, $4,950 has been donated to meet the $7,000 goal. Contributions have been received from 262 contributors so far in 1984 and much gratitude is due all those who have participated.

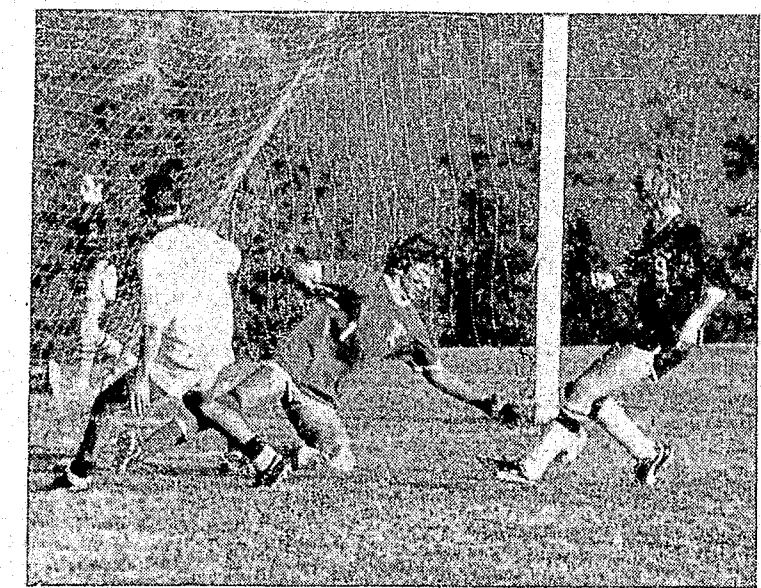

The fourth of the Society's fall film series will be held on Wednesday, Oct. 24, in the meeting room of the Dr. Moses Mason House beginning at 7:30 p.m. Funded with a grant from the Maine Humanities Council and the National Endowment for the Humanities, the series focuses upon the lives of one of America's most famous families beginning with John Adams, second president of the United States. This film entitled "John Adams: Minister to Great Britain (1784-1787)" focuses on the arrival of Abigail Adams with young Abigail (Nabby) in Europe to join John and John Quincy Adams. After Adams renews his old friendship with Thomas Jefferson, Nabby marries Colonel William Stephen Smith, secretary to the American legation in London. The satisfaction which is felt at the successful outcome of the Revolution and its aftermath is weakened by news of dissension in the United States and by the European view that the new nation is a pawn to be manipulated. The series is free and in the quarterfinals before losing to Sacopee, 2-0, in the semi-finals. Sacopee went on to win the championship.

HIGH FIVE-ING IT — Telstar's Bruce Barth, right, congratulates Brandon Salway following the latter's breakaway goal against Mt. Abram last Friday. The Rebels won the game, 2-0. They will now rest up for the quarterfinals of the tournament, on Oct. 27. In the meantime they will scrimmage Rumford next Tuesday, there.

KEEP GOING! Jody Shimamura encourages Telstar cross-country runner Chris Chapman during last Friday's home meet against Mt. Abram. Chapman was the second Telstar finisher, fourth overall, with a time of 22:41. Telstar's David Kersey was the first Rebel finisher, second overall, with a time of 21:20. Mt. Abram won the meet, 22-36. On Tuesday, Telstar's runners lost to Sacopee, 15-49. Their next meet is tomorrow, Friday, in Berlin, N. H.

Last Wednesday the girls lost to Jay, 2-1. The Rebels drew first blood, in the first half, but Jay came back and scored two minutes later. Jay scored again, eight minutes into the second half, and Telstar was unable to get a marker of its own.

Last Friday, the game against Yarmouth, at home, went into a sudden death overtime after two halves of scoreless play. Yarmouth struck first for the win. Coach Hannon commented: "It was a very well-played game by both teams. We even had something like 13 corners to their eight, but we just couldn't score. They had a nice, strong defense and were really tough inside the 16-yard circle." The Rebels were pretty tough themselves, and goal-keeper Jeannine Conant was credited with 10 saves, to five for Yarmouth.

NEW PHONE SERVICE

area phones will be hooked into new local and toll facilities installed in the North Norway telephone office. Conversations will reach the North Norway office via newly buried fibre optic cables, along which the voice transmissions pass as coded light. The old cables, on which voice transmissions passed electrically, will be phased out. The cables between Bethel and West Bethel may even be taken down completely, said Mr. Benner.

In addition to providing clearer conversations, the new facilities will provide additional capacity in the system so that additional single-party services will be available. "The ultimate goal is to provide private line service to every one," Mr. Benner said.

The entire project is costing ConTel about $2.1 million, said Mr. Benner, adding that the improvements were necessary to update an aging system. "The equipment we had—we'd just outgrown. The offices weren't large enough to take any more mechanical-type equipment. And the public today is demanding state-of-the-art equipment."

This costly state-of-the-art equipment will be paid for through increased phone usage, especially usage of additional services, Mr. Benner expects. The new services to be offered local customers are: call waiting, which signals that another call is waiting; call forwarding, which allows incoming calls to be redirected to another number; three-way calling, which permits a customer to set up his own conference calls; and speed

POLITICAL VIEWS AIRED AT TELSTAR

On Monday, Al Barth, candidate for the Maine Legislature, District 49, spoke to the Public Issues classes of Rod Abbott and Charles Raymond, Barth outlined his reasons for seeking the position, the activities and commitment of time that this decision entails, and what the major issues the voters of District 49 are when they go to the polls on Nov. 6.

Mr. Barth encouraged students to register to vote when they become 18 years old, to enroll in a party so they have more of a say in who runs and how a campaign is carried out, and to be sure to vote at every election.

Later this month, the Telstar students will hold a mock election and campaign posters are already in evidence all over the building.

calling, which calls pre-determined long-distance numbers when the customer dials a particular one-digit code. "These enhanced services will provide the revenue (to recoup the investment)," he said. The extra services will be available at $2 per month per service, or $6 for the package of four.

The investment is broken down as follows: $829,692 is for a computer-controlled unit in the company's Bethel building, on Elm Street, $164,319 is for the new equipment in the Locke Mills office, on Twitchell Pond Road; $175,422 is for new equipment in the company's office on Route 2 in West Bethel village; and $161,600 is to upgrade the facilities in the North Norway office, on the Nobles Corner Road. In addition, $766,418 is for installing the 22.5 miles of buried optics cable to connect this area with the toll network.

The new phone system will require a bit of getting used to by local customers. For one thing, Bethel callers will no longer be able to dial a single "4" before the called number. Callers will have to dial the first three digits completely, that is "824." The same holds true for West Bethel's "836" numbers. The toll-free area will remain the same, and calls outside the area, such as between Bethel and Bryant Pond, will still have to be preceded by a "1."

There will be no increase in charges for the improved service. In fact, charges for one-party may be lowered as the result of a hoped-for reduction in the mileage charges put on the bills of phones outside the base area. A rate change last February already reduced these charges by almost half, Mr. Benner noted.

BARN RAISING

continued from Page One never seen one, but Mr. Remington, a carpenter by trade, had a pretty good idea about how it should go. "I knew what I wanted for dimension inside, and I knew I wanted to post and beam it. Instead of stick-building it, I thought this would go a little faster. It worked—I don't know why."

The reason it worked was careful planning. Not only did Mr. Remington have everything in place in the proper dimensions, he had also pre-positioned the necessary bracing, so that it was right at hand when the wall was up at a right angle. "I didn't want it to go up and then right over," he noted.

The men who came to help were "local boys" according to the barn builder. About 70% are carpenters, which probably helped.

The first raise took about 20 minutes, Mr. Remington said, and the second raise took "not over 15." He expects to have the barn closed in before winter. It will be used to house horses and cows, his father-in-law, Ted Grover, said.

SMALL WOODLOT OWNERS TO MEET SATURDAY, OCT. 20

In addition, Sid Flanagan of Casco will bring his portable (circular) mill and Allen Remington, East Branch Industries, Inc. of Bethel, will demonstrate his portable Ross band mill.

(Peter Lammert, Utilization Forester, Maine Forest Service, will be on hand to discuss the pros and cons of custom sawing vs. the sale of logs to the large conventional sawmill. Sticking and drying of lumber will be covered. The financial benefits of tree pruning will be discussed.

Abbott Ladd, Boise Cascade, Tree Farm Forester will lead a short tour of the host's 80-year-old white pine stand. An added attraction will be some homemade skiddlers built by members of the Adams family.

BETHEL MAN RIDES LUKE FOR U.S. B TEAM

Jon Owen, of Songo Road, will be spending his winter maneuvering a huge down slopes in Europe and the U. S. Normally an EMT for an ambulance service in Norway, the 20-year-old Telstar graduate will take the winter off to devote time to improving his skills on the luge.

His fascination with the sport began while he was watching the small sleds race across his TV screen during the 1980 Olympics. "I said, 'Hey, that looks cool. I'll have to try it.' And so he did, receiving instruction at Lake Placid, N. Y., where the U. S. luge team practices.

So quickly did he catch on to the sport, that he was placed on the U. S. B team. As a member of that team he will be competing, as well as practicing, in meets in Europe this winter. He leaves Nov. 2 for Innsbruck, Austria, and will practice and compete there, as well as in Winterburg and Königssee, Germany. He will skipper a one-man sled.

In all, the U. S. teams (both A and B) will spend six weeks in Europe, where the snow and cold sets in earlier than at Lake Placid. "We get six weeks more of training in than we otherwise would," Owen said.

In mid-December, the teams will re-locate to Lake Placid, and training will continue there until mid-March. There, Owen will be joined by Bethel's Jody Shimamura. The two were classmates at Telstar (Class of '82) and will team up on the two-man luge.

Owen hopes that the rigorous training will put the two friends onto the U. S. Olympic team. "Our main goal is Calgary 1988," he said, "the Olympics."

Although a relative newcomer to the luge, Owen is a veteran of winter sports. He was a member of Telstar's championship ski team for the four years he was in high school, and was on the Maine state team in the Eastern Championships.

Greenwood City

— Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corres. —

The far horizon on this October morning lifted in a hazy wall against the western sky. The forests of the hills rose before us, as they have so many mornings in the past, but the scene is ever new. Today the hills curve away in a fairytale of color, even in the pond. What a picture! No matter in what direction we look we see it. Now is the halcyon time of fall, Indian summer. Everyone is talking about the warmth. It has several names in different parts of the word: Second Summer, Summer Close, Counterfeit Summer and others.

I went to the farm fields; there is no place MORE beautiful. What a time is autumn! It is filled with light and color, with deep blue skies, and such a magnificence of gold and ruby, scarlet, yellow and bronze that the mind cannot believe.

As I walked through an open space, near the bulldozer road I flushed a sparrow. It skipped quickly and silently ahead.

The hills folded away. In October the ivine bright air makes outdoor work easier and walking a treat. I walked by the cows so contented and friendly. The maples sighed comfortably, talking to the wind and whispering to the breeze.

They never moan or clatter as do the 'popples!'

Sunlight streamed through notches and crept down slopes. Across the expanse of fields and forests a shoulder of a mountain ended in perpendicular rockface seamed and cracked by time and weather.

A crow was flying big and black above the pines.

I shall always remember this scene, as I saw it with a friend a few years back at this time and spot; a place to recall and dream about, the hills far off, mysterious, beckoning and unattainable. A clear afternoon sunlight fell, as it did today, like a slanting shower of luminous rain through the leaves, I watched as a cloud began drifting across the sun. In another moment all the luminosity faded. But only for a few seconds. I turned and left for home, facing a big maple and I heard in my mind—

"There's a whisper in the woodland."

There's a murmur in the brake
There's a scarlet gypsy maple
Dancing by a mirror lake."

An Open Letter from REPRESENTATIVE JEFF MILLS
to the Voters of District 49

Dear Friends:

One of the most rewarding aspects of my job as your State Representative has been constituent service. I see my role as making government respond to your needs—whether community or individual.

Whether it be arranging transportation for handicapped students, prompting the Fire Marshal to act more speedily on inspections for day care homes, or putting senior citizens in touch with available services, I have thoroughly enjoyed working with you on a personal basis.

In serving as an advocate for local interests—such as the fight against the disposal of low-level nuclear waste, or the effort to keep local property taxes down seeking return of money to area towns for road improvement or tree growth reimbursement—I have been active on your behalf. Your suggestions, offered to me at many municipal and community meetings, have guided me on the job in August.

As a legislator, I subscribe to the idea that I should work to keep government off your back but on your side. I hope you will ask me to continue working for you by voting for me on November 6th.

Sincerely,
JEFF MILLS

S.A.D. 44 News

S.A.D. 44 will contribute an occasional informational article to the readers of The Citizen. Articles will concern programs, procedures, or events within the district. The articles will be written by members of the district staff.

[The information in this column has been contributed by Daniel Hart, the guidance counselor at Telstar Regional High School.

A large part of the work of a secondary guidance office is helping students and parents plan for the years after high school. During the month of October, the following agencies were scheduled to visit Telstar: Oct. 2, U. S. Air Force and Maine Maritime Academy; Oct. 16, USM and the U. S. Navy; Oct. 25, CMVTH; Oct. 26, field trip to New Hampshire Vocational Technical College, Berlin, N. H.

Support services are also an area of concern. Becky Hardy, a substance abuse counselor, is at Telstar each Monday afternoon to see students. Ms. Hardy will be working with the sixth graders of the district during the school year as their health curriculum deals with the area of drug use and abuse.

The month of October is a busy testing month in the district, with all students in grades 4, 6, 8, and 10 scheduled to take S.R.A. standardized tests, and the sophomore class is also taking the National Educational Development Test in conjunction with the S.R.A. testing. The Armed Services Vocational Aptitude Battery (ASVAB) was scheduled for Oct. 18 to all those students planning to enter the military. On Saturday, Oct. 20, the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Testing (P.S.A.T.) will be given in the Telstar Library.

The guidance office offers special night meetings with parents of each class to discuss problems or concerns each fall. If any parents were unable to attend the meetings when they were held this fall, and would like to discuss problems or areas of concerns, please do not hesitate to call the guidance office.

The next column will be outlining the new early elementary school math program entitled "Math Their Way."

by renting a grader by the hour, if the present machine proved unusable.

Selectman Dooen also said that any consideration of acquiring a replacement grader should be made in conjunction with consideration of a replacement truck. Doing some quick figuring, she calculated that the town would have both new for an outlay of $16,000 to $20,000 yearly, spread over five years.

The other money matter that drew the attention of the board Monday evening was the question of where to house the town's two ambulances and provision for training quarters for the B.E.A.R.S. ambulance volunteers. The S.A.D. 44 Board of Directors last week decided, on a split vote, to ask the town to remove the ambulance service from the school district garage on Bethel's lower Main Street, effective June 30, 1985.

Mr. Judson guessed it might cost around $50,000 to erect a metal building for the ambulances and related uses. Selectman Haines thought a two-story wooden building would be a cheaper way to go, and Selectman Dooen thought the B.E.A.R.S. could do some fundraising to help pay for a new building.

B.E.A.R.S. representative Rose Sumner was in favor of the town using its funds to put up a building. "If the town would build a building, we wouldn't face this problem year after year," she said.

The other representatives — Arlene Greenleaf, Laura Plawlock and Wilbur Crowell — were also against placing the responsibility for fund-raising on the volunteer ambulance corps. Mr. Crowell said, "I've given up so many weekends already, you can't count them."

OUTING CLUB ANNOUNCESPLANS FOR SKI SALE

The Bethel Outing Club has announced that its Annual Ski Sale will be held Friday, Nov. 2, 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. and Saturday, Nov. 3, 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., at the Gould Academy Field House in Bethel. Featured in the sale is new and used equipment for alpine and cross country skiing and other winter sports, and includes clothing and accessories.

This first of the season's major ski sales has continued to grow in popularity as more of Maine and New Hampshire's most prestigious shops request participation. The sale offers families, individuals, skiers new to the sport, and experts and racers too, an opportunity to get outfitted for the coming season at bargain basement prices.

The ski sale is held as a public service and is the Bethel Outing Club's primary annual fundraiser. The B.O.C. promotes and supports junior Nordic ski development programs and family outings as well as other community service projects in the greater Bethel and western Maine region.

The B.O.C. has enjoyed tremendous success and growth with its previous sales due in large part to the outstanding support of many volunteers. Anyone who would like to volunteer help in this worthwhile project is encouraged to attend an organizational meeting at the Gould Academy Field House, Oct. 23, at 7:30 p.m. or call Don Angvine at 824-8343 or Ginger Kelly at 824-2714.

Area Health Center, informed the board that the center's board of trustees was considering expanding the health center and might be interested in offering space for the ambulances and related operations.

The board opted to wait and see what the health center trustees decided. But Chairman Jodrey was not optimistic: "We've tried to work with them before, without success. I'm to the point where I think we might as well take it over on our own."

Selectman Dooen noted: "If the health center develops a new building, they may be willing to house the ambulances, (but) that might be two years down the road."

Chairman Jodrey, expressing surprise at the S.A.D. 44 board's action, was of the opinion that the town still had time to negotiate a final evacuation of the premises, pending resettlement into new quarters. "I can't believe the school board is going to kick us out before we find something else," he was not at all impressed with the suggestion of the fire station as that "something else."

"The fire station as an alternative . . . you start working on the thing, you have problems." In other business, the board accepted the opinion of Jim Hudson, chairman of the Airport Development Committee, to invite Hunter-Balwell Associates to discuss a contract for consulting work on the airport expansion project. "It was the general feeling (of the committee) we'd stick with Hunter-Balwell. They're familiar with the situation and they've gotten good reports from the feds and the state, and the price is right."

Town Manager Judson estimated between $1,500 and $2,000 for preliminary consulting work and said he would set up a meeting for the engineering firm, the selectmen, and the committee as soon as possible.

The board also voted to have the polls open at the Bethel Fire Station from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. in the Nov. 6 general election.

The board voted 4-0 (Alden Kennett was absent) to fund a new position of highway worker and laborer class 1A. Mr. Judson asked for the authorization in order to have someone to help out at the landfill, to oversee the foundation, and to do simple carpentry work in the Cole Block. A salary of $4.25 an hour was authorized. Temporary town employee William Rice was mentioned as the likely candidate for the job.

The board voted 4-0 to plow Main Street sidewalks as far as the health center.
